FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Angelic Swings In Six Titles By Tarzan Author

San Diego, CA – Angelic Entertainment proudly announces the acquisition of theatrical rights to six novels by the world reknown creator of Tarzan, Edgar Rice Burroughs. Angelic has begun development on two of the properties, the Science Fiction classic “Pirates of Venus” and the noir drama “The Girl From Hollywood”. These additions by one of America’s finest and most prolific authors provides Angelic with a proven stable of marketable titles.

Angelic’s Senior V.P. of Production, Bruce Pobjoy says, “Mark and I both share a passion for Burroughs novels. It is our intention to be loyal to the integrity of his writing, while at the same time updating, and modernizing the stories for today’s sensibilities, and sophisticated movie audiences.”

Maine states, “We hope this is just the beginning of a long and fruitful association with the ERB Corporation.”

Edgar Rice Burroughs (1875- 1950) produced over 88 novels during his lifetime, including 24 novels in the famous Tarzan series. Burroughs’ tales of adventure have endured the test of time and maintain wide popularity today.

Inspiration, creativity and entertainment are traits Angelic Entertainment mandate for all their film and media projects. The option of Burroughs’ novels fits well in the Angelic plan of wide appeal, marketability and quality.

About Angelic Entertainment

Angelic Entertainment, formed in 1997, with the mission and purpose to develop, produce and present “Content-Responsible” entertainment to an audience disenfranchised from most feature films, television and music currently in release. With numerous projects ready for production, Angelic can swiftly supply a volume of high-quality entertainment. Unlike other entertainment groups, Angelic welcomes dialogue with companies interested in product representation in future projects and potential financial partners who are interested in the creation of “Content-Responsible” entertainment.
